

BETH PRIOR COLLECTIVE

PRESS QUOTES

"What viewers of BPC's show will be left with is the sheer proficiency of the musicianship on display, and the amount of fun they have doing it. What they may not realize is the technical nous that went into making these songs. One of the arts of great songwriting is disguising how much hard work and craftsmanship goes into the process and instead appearing spur of the moment. BPC achieve this and, combined with their raw yet melodic sound, it makes them a joy to experience live." Tom Bonnington, The Oxford Culture Review

"BPC was sensational, the atmosphere amazing and everyone was totally captivated. Fast quips and witty lyrics!" Yazy Tauk, Planet London

"Official, out loud review of the (CD) after first play was 'I am going to listen to the shit out of this'. Ha." Josie George, Writer & blogger

"Beth is always at the centre of any crowd she performs in. Her sound is infectious and never fails to get you moving. Her vocals are solid and it feels like they always will be, juxtaposed with her songwriting skills she feels like she is building up to something great" Sam Fleet, BBC Introducing

"The British singer/songwriter manages to enthrall the audience (with) the way she writes and communicates her innermost thoughts in a brazenly honest way. Puts me into a musical trance (with her) soul filled voice after only a few minutes. Faultless." Krister Wiberg, Musikkniheter.no
